Take Warning in Time. The recent safe burglary at Burcheil's grocery story, right in the heart of the city, and the numerous thefts of valuables from the residences of our citizens, together with the statement from the police authorities that many thieves are gathering here with the crowd usual upon the assembling of Congress, is important warning to our citi-zens and sojourners, and they should govern themselves accordingly. The Washington Safe Deposit Company, No. 916 Pennsyl-vania avenue, has a fire-proof building, en-closing burglar-proof vaults, in which closing burgiar-proof vaults, in which valuables can be deposited for safe keeping at a moderate charge, and the absolute safety of the articles stored with them is guaranteed by this responsible company.

Americans at a Court.

It seems that the career of the King of Wurtemberg's American favorite, Privy Councilor of Court Von Jackson, which reads almost like a fairy tale, has come to a sudden close, inasmuch as latest accounts rom Stuttgart say that he has left that eity and is not likely to return. From being a pupil of the Conservatory he became a clerk in the American Consulate until about three years ago King Charles made him a member of his entounge, gave him the title of nobility, fairly overwhelming him with favors and decorations, and installed him in a wing of the palace. His departure is said to excite but little surprise. The royal friendship has been transferred on a countryman of his, Mr. Woodcock, whom the King is reported to have installed in a sumptious apartment in the Neckar Strasse.—[Paris American Register. reads almost like a fairy tale, has come to a

The Cains and Their Money. When the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia express entered the depot Wednesday morning an interesting group stepped day morning an interesting group stepped from the sleeper. It consisted of a gentleman, his wife and valet. The couple were Mr. and Mrs. Cain of New York city, who are reported to be worth $7,000,000 to $10,000,000. Mr. Cain looked very modest and seemed to know the value of a penny, but his wife was fairly ablaze with the most magnificent dlamonds. From each ear dangled an immense solitaire stone, each worth $17,500. Her fingers were gorgeously bedazzling, and a brooch at the neck worth $17,500. Her fingers were gorgoously bedazzling, and a brooch at the neck seemed to contain the liquid fires of 10,000 furnaces. A gentleman who travelled with the couple says the lady wore diamonds valued at $70,000 to $80,000. The valot was a study. He was a fresh importation from England, a cockney, and he followed behind his master with the pompous air of a sovereign, dangling a little cane and puffing at a fine imported Havana. The valet, it is said, draws a salary of $290 per month—more than is paid our Circuit Judge.—[Chattanooga Times.

Their great hobby is to thrust the stick under one arm, with the longest portion protruding from the rear. When they go through a crowd in the street or anywhere else, everybody behind them is in mortal car of having an eye or two or three ceth knocked out. When one of these gentlemen jumps upon a street car with one or two men upon a street car with one or two men standing upon the step those men are apt to literally "get it in the neck." When they don't dodge adroitly enough as the gentleman swings around they often get a rap in the jaw. These gentlemen with the canes do great execution when they go into a cigar store for a smoke. What the "Church Union" Says. President Brewer and officers of the Washington Life may pride themselves on the success which has attended their company during the twenty-live years of its existence. Judicious management, carefully invested funds, which have turned, as it were, into gold. From the official report of January last we find the company to be possessed of assets of the best character, amounting to $7,304,909.84, with liabilities to policy-holders of $6,474,141.61, leaving a surplus as regards policy-holders of $830,768,23. The income of the Washington last year, from all sources, was $1,775,333,79. The company paid out for losses and matured endowments during the same period, $566,855,90. Cash paid to annuliants, $3,110,23. The company also paid for surrendered policies, etc., $313,458,46, with a cash dividend to policy-holders of $234,850, and return premiums, $1,338,11, making a total payment to policy-holders of $1,146,40,80. The company has greatly increased its business this year so far, so that at the next annual report the assets will not fall short of ten millions, thus showing that the Washington Life was correctly named, if we may judge from the financial success which seems to follow. For twenty-five years this life company has been before the public, and it has never failed in the faithful performance of what it agrees to do in issuing a policy on the life of the policy-holder. The Washington has a good paying and increasing business on its books, it is managed with strict economy and consumnate skill and vigor, it has a first class position in the life insurance world, and that position will be continually increasing to a still more prominent one. Such are a few facts of the financial condition of the Washington Life, which we wish to lay before our readers. The officers of the company are W. A. Brewer, jr. President; W. Haxtun, Vice-President; E. S. French, Superintendent of Agencies; James E. Waugh, General Agent. President Brewer and officers of the Washington Life may pride themselves on

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

And we opine it concerns the major portion of our people. The great showman, P. T. Barnum, has said: "The American people like to be humbugged." We deny that assertion in so far as the present generation is concerned. We have seen too many glittering humbugs "fold their tents and silently steal away," Arab like, in the night time, to doubt the good common sense of the American people. Old birds are rarely caught with chaff, and high-sounding "jingo" counts for nothing nowadays.
